PUBLICATIONS

- Dr. Selim Reza's (Asian University for Women) first book, The Construction Precariat: Dependence, Domination and Labour in Dhaka, is now available for pre-order. The book will be published in a prestigious series called Routledge Studies in the Sociology of Work, Professions and Organisations. This series presents the latest sociological and social scientific research on professions, work and organisations, welcoming studies of careers, professional motivations, organisational change, entrepreneurship, workplace issues, working lives and identities, labour relations and the transformation of work in a changing economy. Two other authors published in this series are: Jacqueline M. Zalewski (Associate Professor of Sociology at West Chester University of Pennsylvania, USA) and Sarah Katharina Kayss (Lecturer in War and Conflict Studies at King's College London). Please see the attached flyer for 20% of your purchase.
- Dr. David Doorey's (York University) book, The Law of Work, 2nd Edition, is now available for order. The Law of Work, 2nd Edition presents a comprehensive overview of Canadian labour and employment law, drawing on a variety of disciplines including labour studies, economics, sociology, industrial relations, and history in a manner that examines not only legal rules governing work, but also the social context in which these laws are formed and applied. The only book in Canada that explores all three legal regimes of work: common law, regulatory standards, and collective bargaining, this new edition is fully updated and includes new Applying the Law practical problem solving exercises to help readers apply the legal lessons to contemporary Canadian work issues.

- Dr. David Doorey also has a new national, collaborative blog called Canadian Law of Work Forum that was launched in March. With timely contributions from leading Canadian and foreign academics and practitioners, CLWF explores important issues in Canadian and international work law and labour policy. Submissions are welcome and encouraged on labour-related topics by academics, practitioners, and students. Please consider subscribing to the blog (see Subscribe window on the home page) and contributing posts to the conservation.
