EVENTS

- We are excited to announce that we will be holding a two-day virtual workshop, ‘Contested Reproduction of Turkey’s Financialized Capitalism: State and Society in Crisis,’ in collaboration with Dr. Pınar Bedirhanoglu (Visiting Professor, Department of Politics, York University). The workshop will take place from June 11th – 12th. Please see the attached program and poster for more details. Please kindly be informed that this is an invitation-only event – hence not to be shared via social media – and due to the live Q&A format, there will be limited space for the audience. If you wish to attend the workshop, please contact Çağlar Dölek at caglardolek@gmail.com to receive the registration link.
- The GLRC co-sponsored a panel discussion with York University’s Faculty of Environmental Studies (FES) on Thursday, May 21st entitled “Labour, Working Conditions, and COVID-19.” This was the second panel in the Social Justice After COVID series. A recording of the panel is available via the FES Facebook page, where you can also find a recording of the first panel discussion, “Public Health, Inequality and COVID-19.”
- Labour4Palestine is holding a webinar tomorrow, Saturday, May 30th at 1:00 pm ET entitled ‘Workers’ Struggle in Palestine.’ The webinar will feature labour leaders and activists in Palestine discussing the conditions of workers and the impact of the Coronavirus on them and their families. Click here to register.
- The Global Labour University \(GLU\) is launching a new online course, ‘Post-Corona Starts Now,’ to support a global debate on policy solutions and strategies to address the main challenges exposed by COVID-19. You can watch a trailer of the course here. Please see here for more information and a link to enroll.

- The Affiliation of Multicultural Societies and Service Agencies (AMSSA) of BC is holding a webinar on Wednesday, June 3rd at 9:00 am PT entitled 'Supporting Migrant Workers during COVID-19 with WorkSafeBC's Guide to Promoting Health and Safety.' This webinar aims to provide information to individuals and organizations who support migrant workers on the health and safety standards that both migrant workers and employers need to follow, as well as to increase service providers' capacity to support migrant workers through a better understanding of the required health and safety standards that they as service providers need to follow moving forward. Click here to register.
- The Knowledge Mobilization Unit at York University has announced a new 8-week self-directed online version of their MobilizeYU course. Participants will learn about knowledge mobilization planning, effective ways to share academic research with society and how to measure and communicate the impacts of their research. Knowledge Mobilization Unit staff, along with guest speakers, will be covering topics such as Knowledge Mobilization Planning; Clear Language Writing and Design; Impact and Evaluation; and Building Partnerships. Please see here for more information
